DESIGNER SERIES

The Pemko Designer Series flat track sliding door hardware is more than a standard decorative sliding door solution. Designed to effortlessly move wood doors weighing up to 500 lbs, it is a perfect fit for high end commercial properties, including offices and hotels, looking to save space while adding visual appeal to the room.

Whether looking for a contemporary design or rustic appeal, the Designer Series' four hanger options and five available finishes offer the flexibility to select a perfect match for the surrounding décor. The wheel style and fasteners are also carefully coordinated with the hanger design to give each configuration its own unique appeal. This attention to detail ensures the Pemko Designer Series will add form and function to any environment.
